Dear Peter,

It is impossible to express my gratitude to you for the confidence that has been brought out in my daughter, Talia. I could barely believe that was my shy daughter on the stage at the Orpheum Theater. I could not have had a prouder maternal moment.

Since returning to St. Petersburg, Talia went to an Open Call and was cast in her very first commercial. She possessed confidence, grace and professionalism that you would expect from a Beginnings student. She has several agents calling to set appointments to meet her. She is continuing her acting and dancing classes, and shows an excitement level about acting that is contagious. She hopes to return to your workshops, as she continually states how beneficial they are.

When you interviewed Talia at the dance studio, you mentioned that your grandfather was from Russia. Well, we have returned to Russia to adopt our daughter, Galina's sister. I picked this gift for you, as token of my gratitude and appreciation.

Sincerely,
