Dear Peter:

To say that my husband and I are delighted with the many benefits our daughter has enjoyed as a result of her Beginnings Workshop experience is truly an understatement. I am so grateful that I wanted to share my appreciation with you in this letter and encourage any parents who have concern about the workshop, to please call me with their questions.

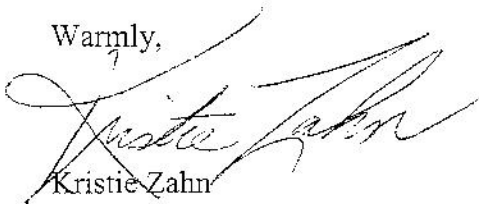

Anna has taken dance lessons for many years, and her technique, I'm told, is quite good. With the coaching she received at the Beginnings Workshop, she is now able to combine her dancing skills with a strong stage presence, characterization, and self confidence. Her teachers have all commented on her enhanced performance as a dancer.

Further, Anna's no long the "junk food junkie" she was prior to her visit. She has a new found respect for her body and what food she puts in it. Being an adolescent girl, its a valuable life lesson to love who you are, changes, braces, and all.

Peter, I admit I was a bit skeptical as I prepared my daughter for her adventure in New York. I am pleased to say that you have exceeded every expectation. A thank you seems insufficient for all you have given me, my daughter and our family.

Please be assured that you have my on going support and gratitude. God bless you and your "Beginnings Family".

Warmly,

Kristie Zahn
