

Hi Peter!

Thank you so much! My appreciation for you is continuing every day as I watch my daughters go about their hectic daily schedules. They get so much out of your workshops, it's hard to pinpoint which aspect is the most valuable. Professionally, they have learned detailed specific acting skills and have actually retained them! Personally you have nurtured them to be self aware and focus on their god given talents. They come home with a lasting sense of responsibility to be productive, resourceful and content. Your delivery of healthy food certainly helps my battle against the American Junk. Peter you have a knack with your guidance! My teens came home with direction and conversation of professional aspects and higher education choices. Some times Mom doesn't quite seem to say the right things. I appreciate your added support! You will be seeing more of my daughters at the next mini-workshop!

Sincerely,

Mary Winter
