Dear Peter:

Thank you for the time and the extra time you spent with Elise recently. It took me about a minute at the airport in Denver to notice the change in her. While she was gone, I read a lot of the testimonials on your website and, while I expected her to have a good time and learn some stuff, I didn't really expect her to have a life-altering experience like many of the letters describe. After all, I didn't send a shy, quiet kid off to New York in the hopes that she would finally get some confidence! Nevertheless, she is different and the change is good! She came home more mature, more confident, more articulate, more motivated and more sure of herself. And what's new is the sense of empowerment and strength. She also seems more calm and there hasn't been a single Katie Kaboom incident in our house since she's been home. BIG thanks for that!

I now believe Elise was truly blessed to have had the opportunity to participate in the workshop and the mini-workshop afterward in Harrison. It was life-altering and will be with her forever.

Elise would love to return to Harrison for the mini-workshop in December and January. I have enclosed a money order for $380 which includes $250 for food and housing, $40 for classes, $80 for chaperone service on the first and last day and $10 to reimburse you for the postage for sending (thank you!) Elise's cell phone and other left-behinds home.

Please let me know the parameters for scheduling her flights as soon as possible. I'm watching the airfares every day. I'm also curious when the pictures from the photo shoot will arrive. And I would also like to know if it's still possible to get a video from the August workshop.

Thank you again for everything and I look forward to hearing from you!

Sincerely,
